foreword

This is Mt. Diablo High—born 1901. Through a half century of progress and adjustment, its many buildings (some of which are far from the most modern) center campus life to meet modern standards.

This year Mt. Diablo students extended a hand of approval toward the new judiciary system complete with Chief Justice, prosecuting committee, and judiciary committee, and thus student government took a significant stride. The Student Body Constitution underwent a "facelifting" job in order that there might be more class participation in activities.

To enliven interest in basketball season, musical entertainment was premiered by the "Strawhatters" in the Gymnasium. Mt. Diablo was a pioneer of the Western high schools in its attempt to record the school's year on a Telebook. Even the seniors were no longer content to hold to the theme of their annual Senior Variety Show. They presented an Extravaganza, "Carnival Capers."

Our rich heritage fom past Diablo years has been enriched this year, 54-55, and changed by the life process of adding new traditions to the old traditions.

Basketball crowds sway to the joyful notes of those "crazy" Strawhatters.

dedication

We caught the first smile of a father March 29 when Mr. Hart Fairclough learned of the arrival of his 8 pound baby daughter.

Modern ideas which have been put to practical use in Diablo school life today—on the campus and in activities—are there, greatly through the efforts of Mr. Hart Fairclough.

Under his leadership, the Rally Committee has profited from his refreshing ideas. The card stunts . . . our song leading Devilettes . . . changing league rules to permit bands at basketball games . . . all these were the result of his efforts. In whatever field he participates: as a teacher, adviser, or coach, he does so with the utmost enthusiasm and imagination. As a token of our appreciation, therefore, we dedicate this Diablo '55 to Mr. Hart Fairclough.

principal's message

The twentieth century has shown progress in numerous areas, including among others, increased production, improved products, medical advances, better and quicker methods of transportation and communication, as well as in a keener understanding of man's conduct among men.

It is important to understand that these accomplishments have become possible only because of the knowledge and experience accumulated in preceding centuries.

As an outgrowth of the progress made, people are better acquainted with traditions and conditions in the rest of the world. To benefit from each other's experiences it becomes necessary for people to develop tolerance and understanding.

It seems then that there is actually more need now than ever before for people to develop a proficiency in the basic tools of learning (reading, writing, and arithmetic) and in the art of being able to work and get along with others. Only by doing this can youth of today understand the past and also become an active member of the modern world of tomorrow.

DR. FERD DIEL, Principal

Dr. Ferd Diel is now completing his fourth year as our principal.

His years at Diablo have brought Mr. Pete Kramer the responsible positions of vice-principal and Boys' Dean.

Mt. Diablo's Dean of Girls and vice-principal, Mrs. Irmgard Cox, stops her busy schedule long enough to smile for the camera.

superintendent's message

The school year 1954-55 has seen continued growth in the Mt. Diablo Unified School District and a large increase in the number of high school students.

To meet this growth new schools are needed. Next fall 400 Diablans will be transferred to the new high school in the northern part of our district. As the years roll on, new high schools will be constructed in the Clayton Valley and Ygnacio Valley areas.

Mt. Diablo High School will continue to be a large school as the new campuses are being developed. It is expected that the present Diablo enrollment of 2,200 students will increase to 2,800 or more within the next ten years. By that time there will be five high schools in our district, and many new adjustments will have had to be made.

It is hoped that Mt. Diablo High will continue to maintain the traditionally high standards of sportsamnship, scholarship, and citizenship which have prevailed through the years. Mt. Diablo must be the "big brother" of our new schools and continue to set the example for the rest of the district.

Ferd Kiesel, personnel and instruction assistant superintendent, and Owen Cook, business and transportation assistant superintendent, may well wrinkle brows over the problems ahead.

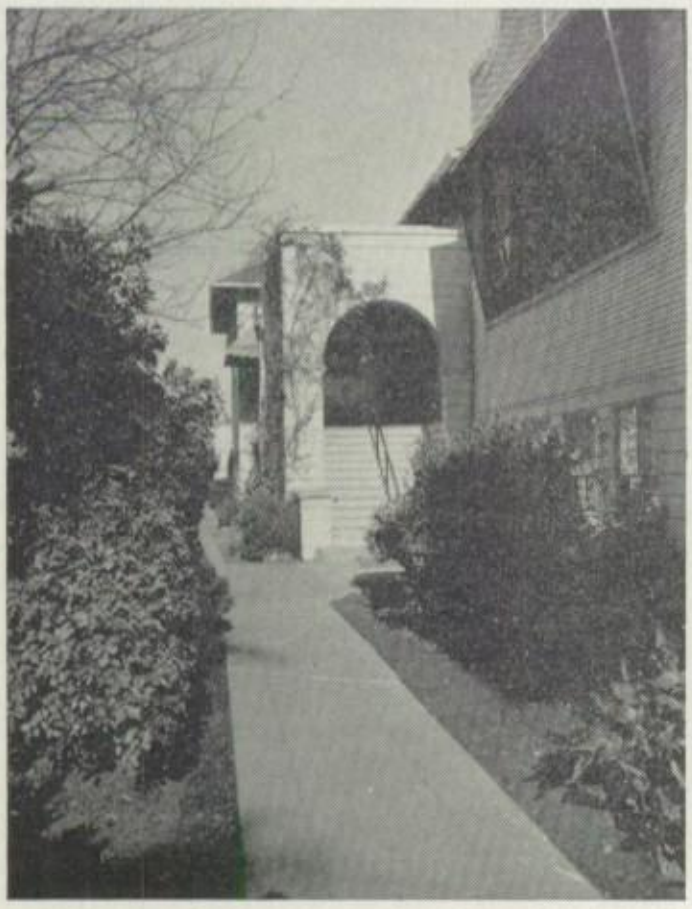
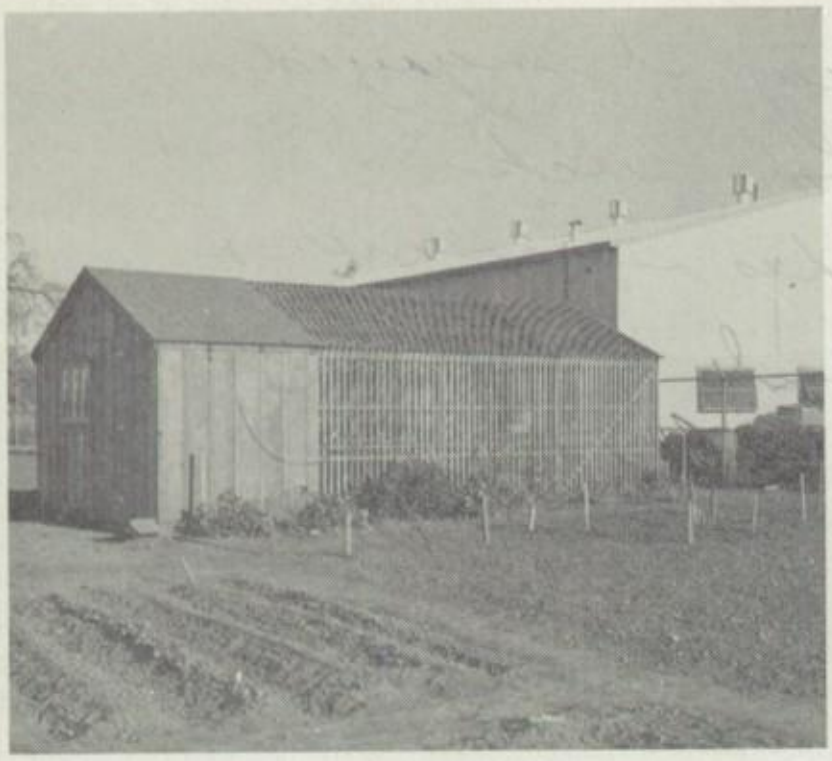
A campus is something like a fairground at festival time. One remembers the people, but one also remembers the buildings which housed the people and their activities. So it is with Diablo.

Each building cups a memory for you. Maybe for you and you it's a lab in the Science Building, or a tool room in the Shop Buildings, or a certain room in the Academic Building which delights your personal taste. Or again there's an exercise room in the Boys' or Girls' Gym where you found physical fitness, or you entered your own commercial world in the Commercial Building, or you found literary pleasure in the

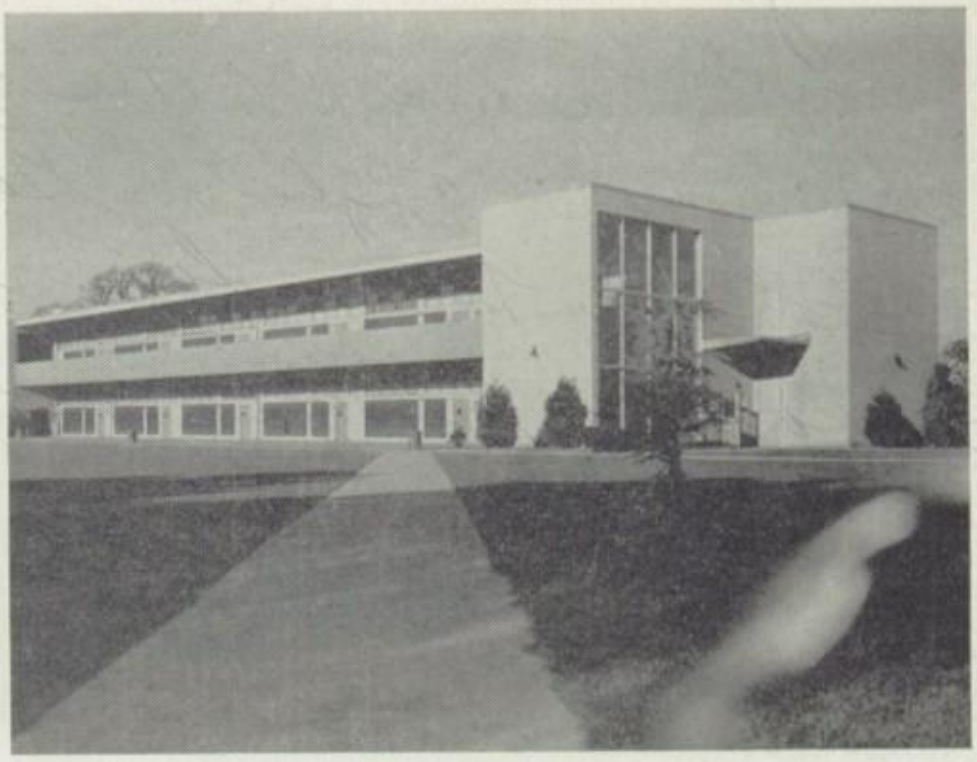


The pioneer Diabolites will remember this building as the school in the early 1900's. It is now almost solely used to house the district administrators.

A new addition to the campus, the English Building was completed in 1936. The school enrollment that year had risen to a new high of 651 students.



The greenhouse, the latest addition to the Diablo campus, was built during the summer of 1954 to house future campus shrubs and flowers.



Unique in modern design, the Academic Building completed in 1950, is one of Diablo's most attractive in student opinion.

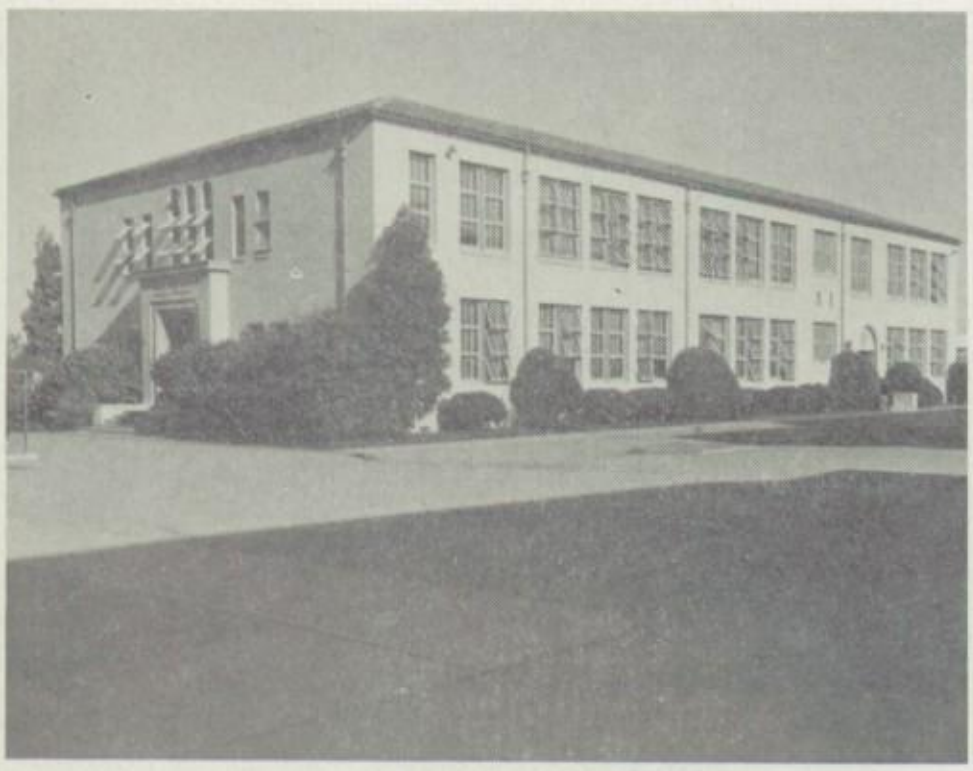
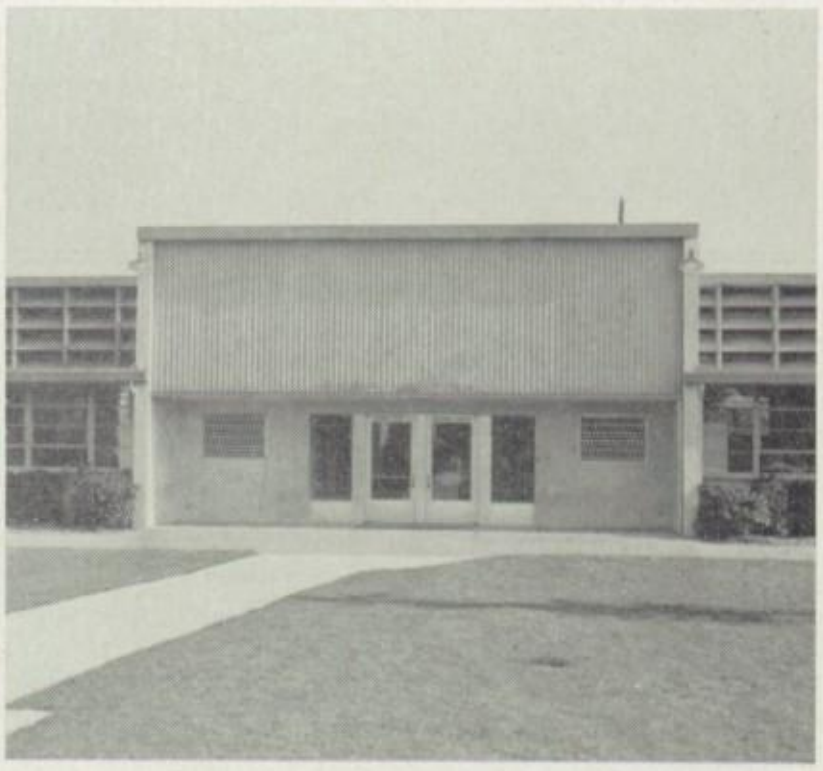
English Building. Or again, it might be that the Administration Building haunts you for various reasons. Whatever it is which reminds you of this year, you can be sure one of these buildings was a "prop" as it has been to school-generations before you.

The Science Building was compounded in the gay '20s.



The Commercial Building was added to the Diablo campus in 1940 due to increase of student population.



Wood and Metal Shops built in 1950 streamlined our campus a bit more.

"No loitering!" were orders issued by Senior Service members in low bass voices as well as in mezzo-soprano. They waved their arms, stopped underclassmen to issue citations, or scared little frosh, in performing their duties as guardians of the campus byways. Now somebody has blown the whistle on them. Senior loitering days are no more for the class of '55.

But they had a busy, fun year with Bill Leath as president; Jay Terry, vice-president; Carol Stoneking, secretary-treasurer; and Dave Harmecek, representative. Then they had advisers to consult about the etiquette or the price or the order form. These included: Mrs. Betty Courtney, Mr. Lester Dunnells, Mrs. Eloise Honett, Mrs. Virginia Newcomb, Mr. Charles Karp and Mr. Charles Oakley. They also had counselors who prodded them into the correct schedules—Mrs. Honett and Mr. George Stoner.

On the social side they had banquets, variety show, picnics, career planned days, and a Senior Ball to remember. One of their members was invited to apply for a spot on that top coast team which plays for the Shriners in Los Angeles in the fall, one Dan Colchico.

This was a year they will remember.

The three Beguine dancers did a colorful sideshow number in the senior extravaganza, Carnival Capers.

"Red" (Mike Barry) and Monica (Carol Lee) agree to be in love with one another at this point in the musical.

The Umbrella girls with their sailor, whirled and twirled skirts and parasols for the eye of a passing "salt."

Bill Rood and Dorsey Allison ham the "Sisters" pantomine.

The clown of clowns, Bill Van Baggen, carried the story of Carnival Capers for the audience.

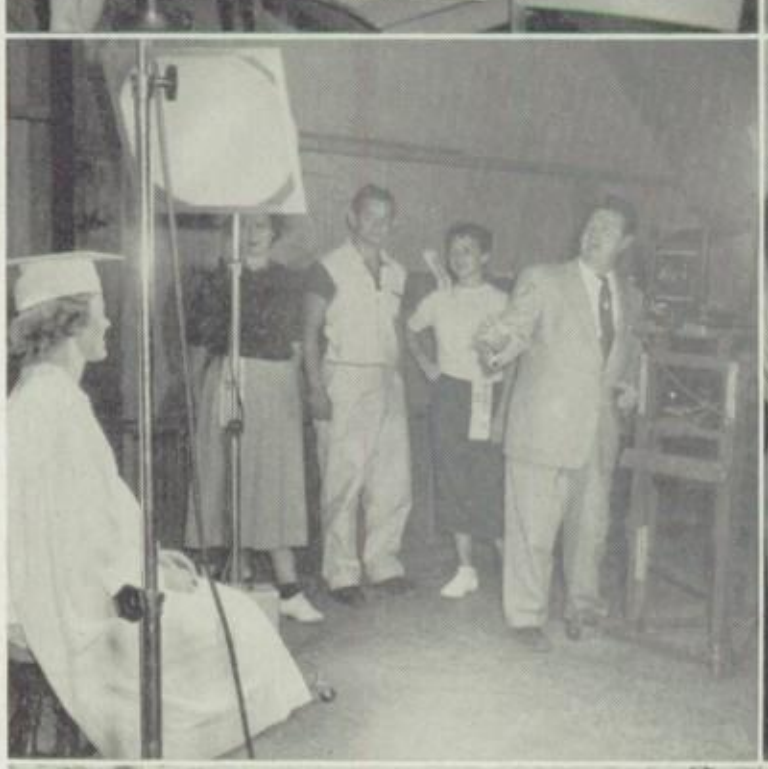
The boss (Jerry Sisson) and Diane (Cherie Seaman) duet the "When I Close My Eyes" number.

The grand finale with everybody on stage singing "Love's a Merry-go-round" was the last curtain call melody for the class of '55's show.

It seems that some of our Senior boys have not yet learned to read.

Betty dreams as the rest of the civics class attempts to study.

Miss Couchman tries to fill her English IV AX students with "book larnin'."



Hal calls for a smile from Greta on senior picture day.

Lydia instructs Yvonne in the proper use of a hand mimeograph machine.

These Seniors are already for the "Big Day."

When you get married and have 25
don't call it a family call it a Tribe

Trouble-shooting and herding "lost sheep" was a top extracurricular junior course at Diablo this year.

Junior traffic control was formed of the class stalwarts who steered the herd of students through the right doors and up the correct stairs. Collisions were few and citations almost nil, which speaks well for authoritative voices and junior diplomacy.

Head whistle blowers were Wayne Littleton, president; Betty Garrison, vice-president; Sharon Christiensen, secretary-treasurer; and Bobby Garverick, Junior Class representative.

Further "service" came from those who served the Student Body as well as their Class: Jerry Walsh, student body vice-president; Bill Sobotka, grounds commissioner; Virginia De Benedetti, member of the Devilettes; and Lorrie Omania, yell leader.

On the undisciplined side of the year were the Junior Assembly, the Junior Prom and the Junior Carnival. The Classmen made their first stage appearance of the year at their annual assembly. In it Rod Newhall assumed the role of an 1890 showboat captain, and Frances Sands, Jerry Walsh, and Sharon Christiensen made a smash hit with their version of Oop Shoop! The Prom was a springtime night to remember, while at the Carnival, the Campus Sweetheart was crowned in the traditional fashion. The Class worked like "Little Devils" to make this a gay affair for everyone.

That sturdy crew known as the advisers were Mr. Lloyd Moore, chairman; Mrs. Hildred Garrison, and Miss Rosemarie Wiegner.

So this is the way the junior girls keep their white bucks clean!

Mr. Jack Criqui makes sulfuric acid for his fourth period Chemistry Class.

Strong-armed tactics are necessary when a wrong-way Corrigan interferes with the Junior Traffic Control in the Academic Building.

Mr. McEwing's third period Geometry Class has a bird-watcher!

Junior Carnival committee members can laugh now, but the clean-up comes later.

History need not be dead if the speaker is as alive as Gerald Hamer in Mrs. Vera Monroe's U.S. History Class.

Burt Paulson and Virginia Vaughn, semester editors of the Diablo News, pose for the birdie to commemorate three semesters of active work in Journalism.

Journalism II students, Rodger (sleepy) Lee, Joan Machado, and Sid Smith baby sit with the News I's while Mamma Lum is out. Actually, program conflicts made it impossible for them to be in first period staff class. Oh, well, pablum anyone?

The angelic looking devils of the Journalism II class smile as their "pitcher is took." All, that is, except those two in back. They're always advertising!

Working behind that new Journalism office partition is the Diablo News Staff. Looks a little crowded doesn't it? Don't let them kid you, they're just all spread out at the moment. These are the staff members responsible for the bi-monthly School Publication.

diablo '55

The fun-loving but hard-working occupants of fifth period 53 AC were a group of students whose main objective was the successful completion of a $6,000 pictorial story of the school year—your Diablo '55.

Seated looking over the Dummy for Diablo '55 are Kay Olander, editor, and Mrs. Helen Lum, adviser.

There are triangles and triangles, but this one is a human one formed of staff members, assistants and adviser in the Quad one fine day.

Look for these junior faces on the next year's staff page for they are class members of Yearbook I.

This year's A Cappella Choir is composed of approximately seventy-two members under the leadership of Mr. George Prall. The leading choral group of our school has had a busy year, leading off with the Christmas Pageant; then Exchange Assembly with Pleasant Hill, Choir Assembly, and ending with the Spring Concert presented May 5. The choir also traveled to C. O. P. on February 5 and San Jose on May 7 for a music workshop and festival.

Members of the orchestra are seated with Miss Hilda Ransom, director.

Starting the annual three-game practice series, Diablo played the first game against the Alameda Hornets. The Hornets were too strong for the Devils, and won by a 26-6 score. After taking this shellacking, the Devils went to visit the Cardinals of Santa Cruz and won 32-14. For the last of the three-game series, Diablo played host to the Berkeley Yellowjackets and tied with them 12-12.

League play started with Acalanes. The Devils won the game by a score of 25-6. Playing Pleasant Hill Rams for the first time, the Devils team proved too tough for their little brothers and took them for 27-6. Playing Las Lomas for the first time in competition by league, the Devils fought hard to win from the Knights by a 7-6 margin. Next Diablo played host to Antioch, but the game didn't go Devilward this time. The Panthers roasted the Devils 33-0. For the big league game against Pittsburg, and the last of the league series, the Devils lost 46-13.

The standing at the end of the season told of three Devil wins and two losses.

The Red Devils had a good season this year, tying Acalanes for second place, winninq eleven and droppinq five of their games.

Outstandinq players for the Red five were Sid Smith, Henry Haqwood, Jerry Walsh, and Jim Brooks. Sid Simms was another spotlighted player, before he was hospitalized early in the season.

Some of Coach Charlie Karp's up-and-coming juniors will be Marv Williams and Roy Johnson, who both showed good basketball know-how this year.

baseball

Diablo's '55 Baseball season opened with the Red Devils winning two out of their three practice games played.

The Devils split a pair with John Swett winning the first 14 to 3 while losing the second game 3 to 4. Ron Baldwin with three singles and Ray Avansino with a home run and a single, led the Devils hitting attack. Their second win came against San Ramon 8 to 0. Dan Colchico with a home run and Dorsey Allison with two singles led the team to victory.

In league competition Diablo defeated a strong Antioch team 4 to 0. Sophomore Rod Atnip, Devil's pitcher stole the show by throwing a no hit no run game. This was the second one of his career.

The second league outing proved too much for the Devils. Just before press time they went down to defeat at the hands of the league-favored Pittsburg Pirates 6 to 2. Ron Baldwin led the Devils at the plate with a triple that day.

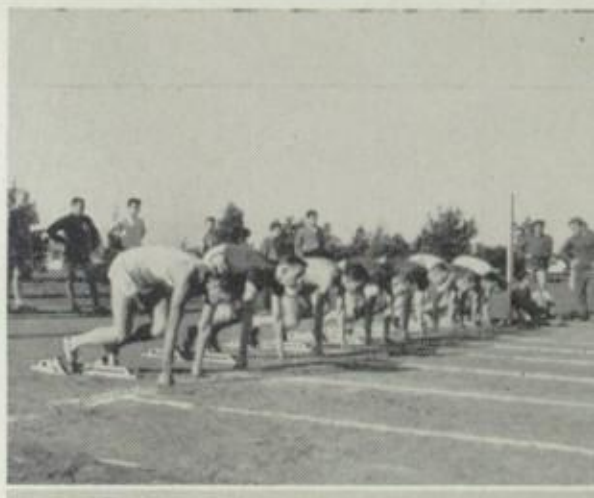
The returning lettermen, Shelby Higgins, Jim Brooks, Dave Krowel, and Harold Hayworth who with Dick Brown ready to fill in, will form one of the best relay teams in the state according to coaches Hart Fairclough and Orv Steffen.

They have already turned in a time of 1:31.6 which breaks the school record. Harold Hayworth besides anchoring the relay team will run both dashes. He turned in early season times of 10 flat in the 100-yd dash and a time of 21.8 in the 220. Jim Brooks and Dave Krowel who placed one, two, in the high hurdles at the county meet last year, are trying to repeat it again. Both also run the lows, and Dave is defending county champ.

The B relay team made up of Denny Coffee, "Babe" Guerisoli, Gil Johnson, and John Tonetti have broken the school mark with a time of 45.9. Tom Barclay, top B hurdle, is capable of filling in. John, like Harold in the varsity, has broken the school record in the 150-yard dash with a time of 15.5 and tied the record for the 75 of 8.1.

B distance men Don Parke and Marc Stephens have broken the record for the 660 and the 1320 respectively, Don has run the 660 in 1:32.9, while Marc, a freshman, turned in a time of 3:36.0 for the three-quarter mile. Roy Hill of the varsity is running the mile in the 4:40's which is good early season time.



The sprinters are getting set for the 150-yd. dash.

The 1955 Red Devil Swimming team under the helm of Coach Les Williams expects to win the county crown.

The team beat Acalanes for the first time in the history of the swimming team.

Some of the standouts this year are Don Garlington who's a junior diver; Howard Kennerson who swims the two hundred free style; and Page Pierson, breast stroker.

Many of the swimmers have bettered records at the meets.

The B team's strength lies in the following performers: Harold Feinberg, who swims the 50 and the 100 free style; and Mike Navone, who will move up to the varsity team next year.

The B's have a lot of strength and depth, and Coach Williams has high hopes for them also.

The Mt. Diablo tennis team under the guidance of Coach Alex Gorbenko has three veterans returning from last year: Neil Francis, Herman Cortes, and Fred Hanson.

Although tennis doesn't draw too much attention at Diablo, teams have been organized for at least five years. The eight men on this year's team who hope to bring the championship home to Diablo have played twenty matches this year.

The first step in any tennis match is hands across the net.

Every girl from frosh to senior invariably can be found dancing, exercising, batting, hitting, tumbling, or swimming for an hour of an education-of-a-different-nature—physical education. To succeed in this particular class one must have brawn, enthusiasm, and sometimes a spirit of competition, as well as a brain.

P. E. this year offered every red-blooded Diablo girl almost every sport short of golf, hockey, and football. They were under the supervision of Miss Jessie Falconer, and four newcomers: Mrs. Barbara Colvin, Mrs. Shirley Krueger, Mrs. Jean Cummings, and Mrs. Betty Nikkel.

Exhausted and tired, side strokers stretch across the cool blue pool.

G.A.A. this year still maintains a good rating on the popularity poll as one of Diablo's largest clubs. To become a member, a girl has but to undergo the traditional procedure known as "initiation."

Head athlete was Mrs. Shirley Krueger, while chief athletic enthusiasts were Greta Youngberg, president; Carole Dawn Lee, vice-president; and Darlene Laughlin, secretary.

The G.A.A. members' year was highlighted by three main events: the March Play Day; later, a Dodge Ridge journey into the snow, and an "awarding" May Banquet.

A school of capable mermaids headed by Mrs. Barbara Colvin climaxed the year with the Annual Water Ballet Show.

modern dance

Different and unusual entertainment was made possible to the student body and the public as the dancers of Diablo's modern dance class, headed by Mrs. Jean Cummings, whirled themselves through their second year of rhythm.

Still sporting a shine of newness, the group made the year's first performance in a multi-colored interpretation of "Bell of the Ball" at the Clubs' Assembly. The theme of February 24 Modern Dance Assembly was centered around nine colors. Brown was a jungle epic—and black the condemned criminal.

Dancing leadership was in the hands of Billie Trimble, president; Kay Olander, secretary; Sandy Coleman, costume manager; and Janet Tod and Gloria Bolognia, publicity.

The Modern Dance assembly concluded with a multicolor wheel, with a white spoke. The entire forty girls displayed their talents in forming this moving wheel.

The color black, symbolized the condemned criminal. This was a slow moving dance, consisting mainly of arm movements.

Even girls can be Martians. These Outer-Space women, accented by green skirts and green spotlights, moved through a fantastic sky rhythm for the Martian number.

El Monte Merchants Association

El Monte Merchants Association is a civic-minded group which possesses the will to serve and help.

Early in Concord's expanding days, the merchants moved out on Clayton Road and took a typical "American chance" on having the trade follow them.

Today the center is nestled in the midst of many housing projects. The trade did follow them.

The following Association members would like to express their congratulations to the graduating class of 1955.
